Ain't No April Fools' Joke with AVA's Exciting Update!

This season, AVA brings you a new infection map and 2 deadly new weapons to punish your enemies.

Dual Sight

Mode: Infection

Mission Type: Special Warfare (2 - 16 players)

Location: Hangar, Bruno, Czech Republic.

A series of incidents supporting the NRF's use of bio-weapons have been reported near Bruno, a former industrial city of the Czech Republic that has been reduced to rubble.

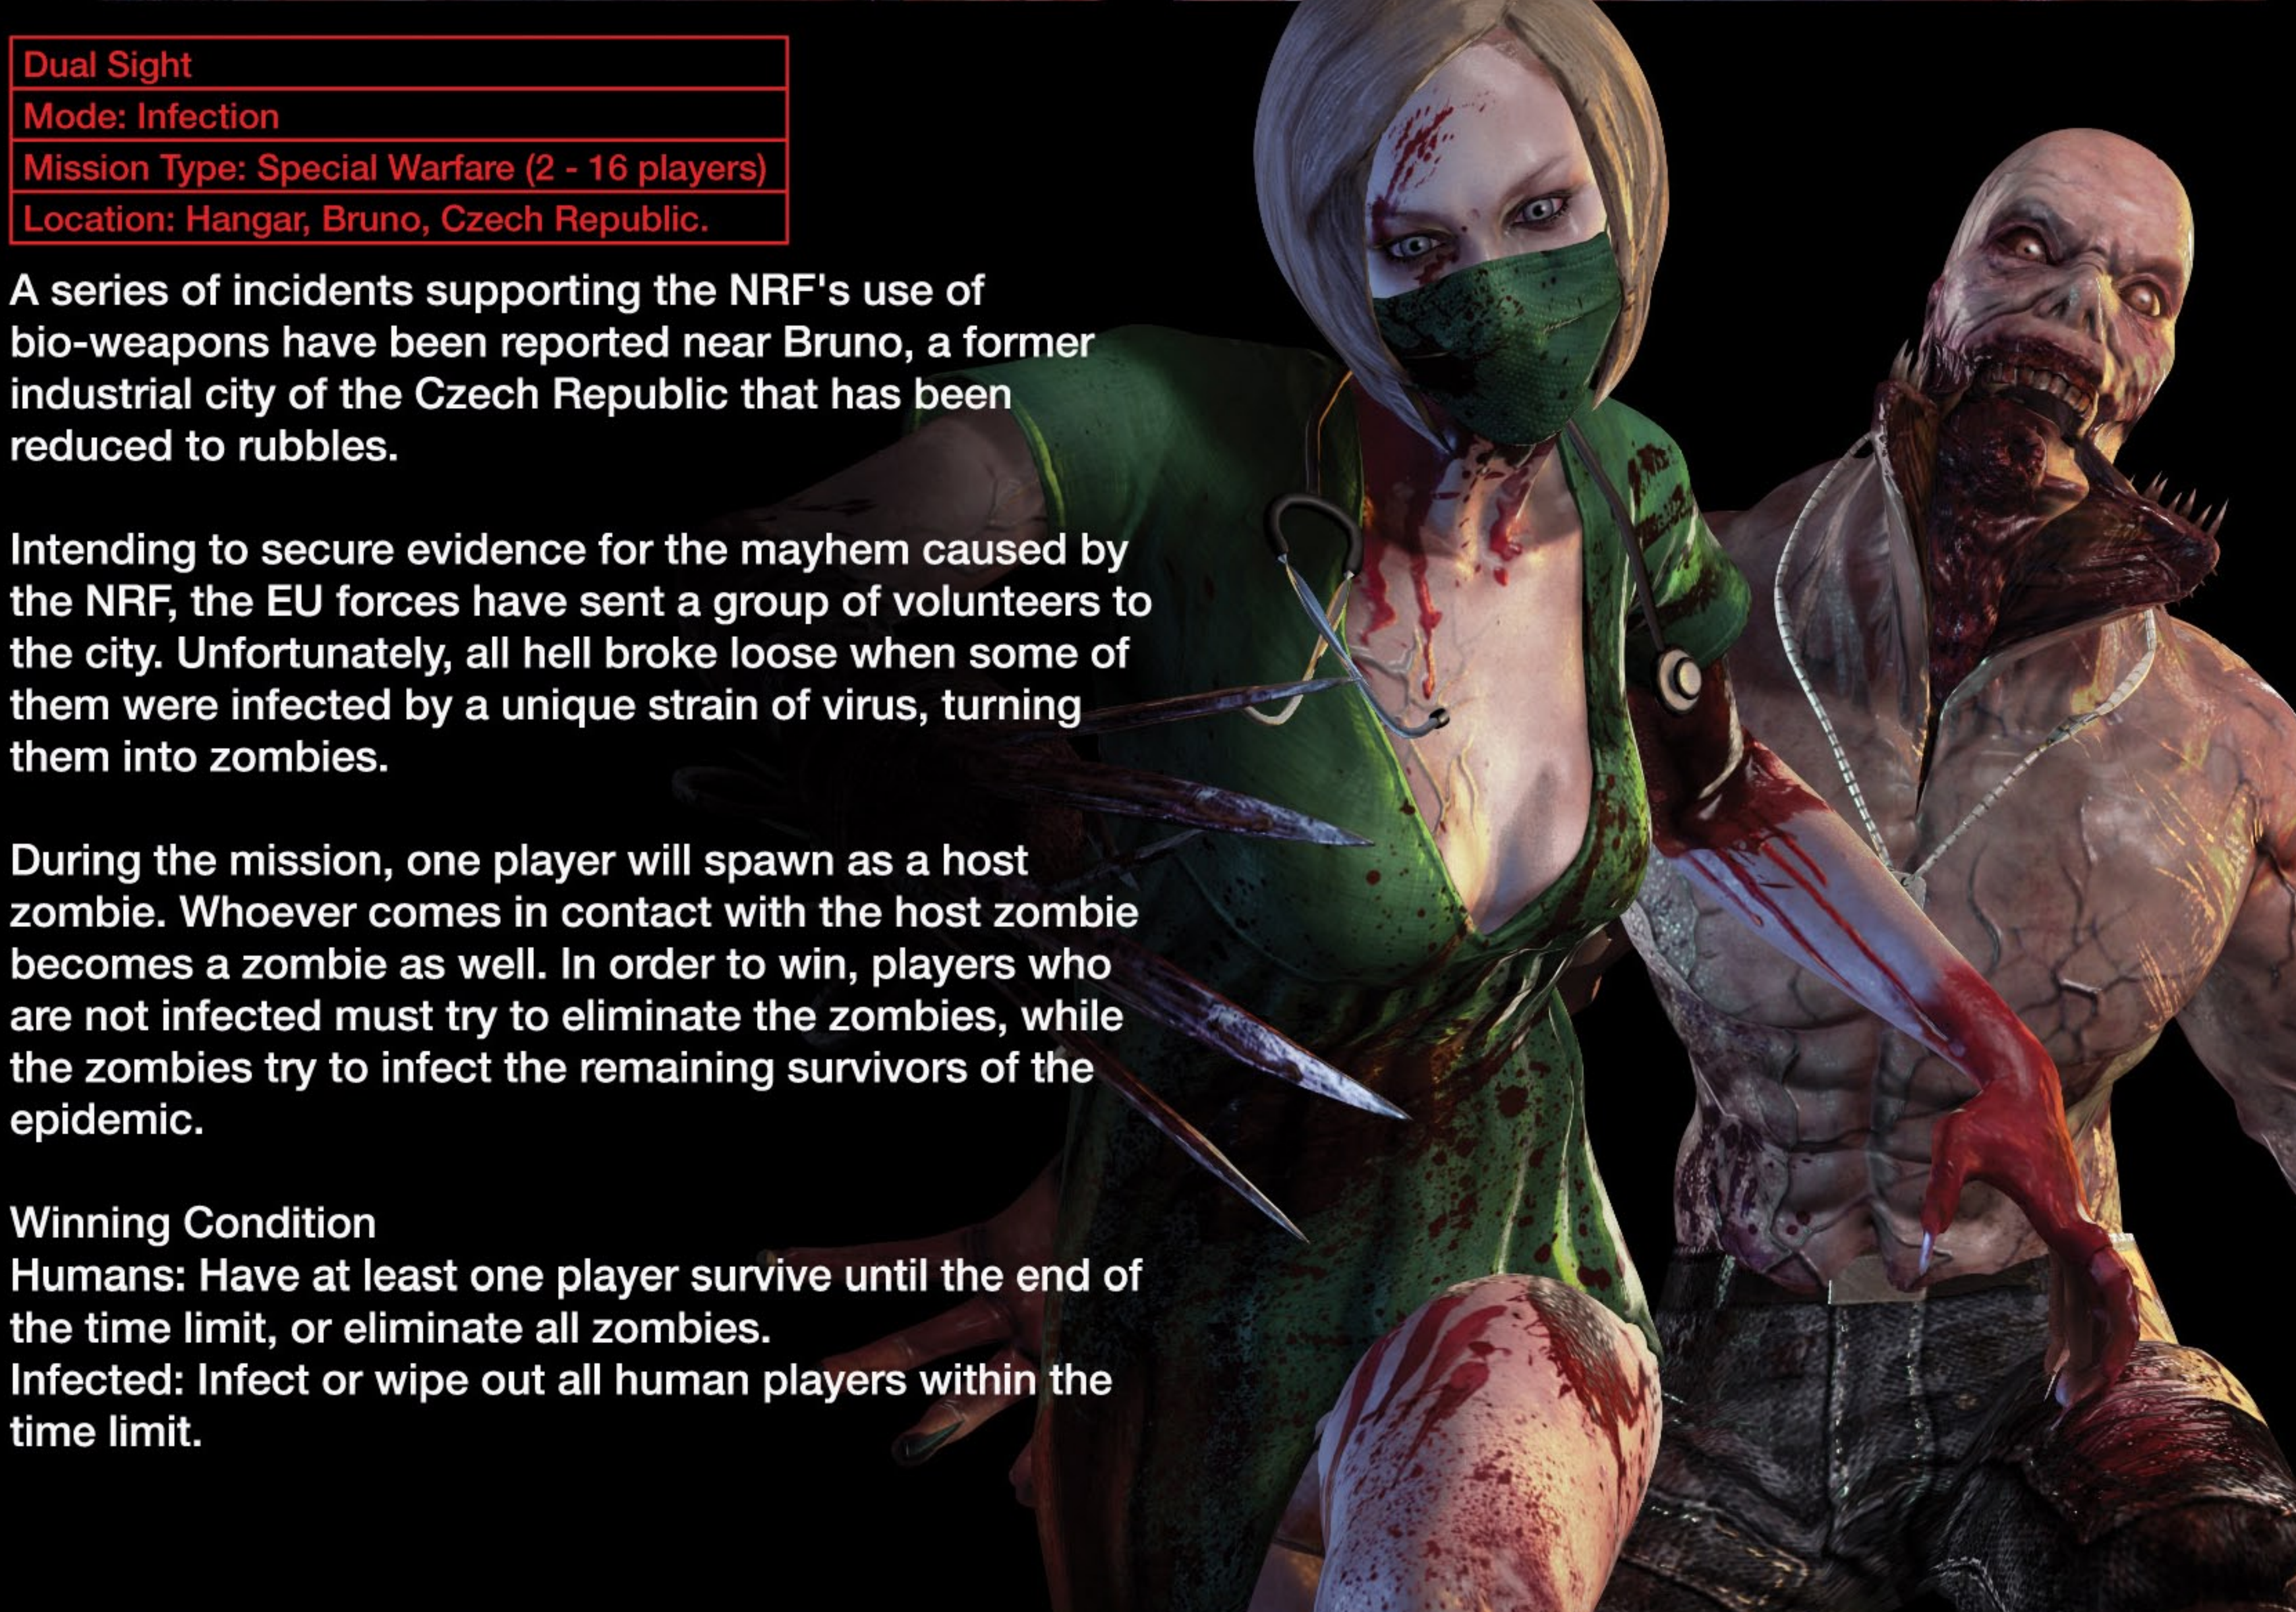

Intending to secure evidence for the mayhem caused by the NRF, the EU forces have sent a group of volunteers to the city. Unfortunately, all hell broke loose when some of them were infected by a unique strain of virus, turning them into zombies.

During the mission, one player will spawn as a host zombie. Whoever comes in contact with the host zombie becomes a zombie as well. In order to win, players who are not infected must try to eliminate the zombies, while the zombies try to infect the remaining survivors of the epidemic.

RIFT

AN INTRODUCTION TO RIFT FROM A NEWBIE

Honestly, when I was first introduced to Rift by a friend, I wasn't that excited about, as I assumed that it was probably was another hack n slash RPG. Since I have always preferred Pay to Play MMORPG, I decided to give it a try, as there was a seven days free trial involved.

The first two hours of the game weren't much to shout about, but the storyline seemed interesting, and so I continued to see where it would lead me. Strangely this game has a way of sucking your soul into it, and before I knew it, it had been over 8 hours since I last logged in! The quests are never-ending, which suits my playing style, and I could see why my friend enjoyed the grouping up with players to fight the war, as the world opens up creating Rifts to form like what we would normally call in other games a "mob attack"! Tons of mobs flood through from these Rifts, and everyone in the game is called to action! Regardless of whether or not you decide to take part in the Rift Wars, you are still awarded with some items.

Overall, I found my initial experience with Rift extremely pleasant, and frankly, it gave me much more enjoyment that I initially expected. If anyone is looking for a new Pay to Play Game, and have yet to try Rift, maybe you would like to join me?

Grab those perks, improve the skills

Together with the new level cap release, other than the array of new Talent skills, players will be most delighted by the new Perks as follows:

The two races, the Noblians and Floresslahs aim to restore the world they know according to the different philosophies of life that they believe strongly in. Which race will you choose?
